Baylor & Methodist Hospital Systems Need Help For Grieving Families

Dear Friends & Families;

For over a decade, our family has sponsored the Adam and Michael Angel Mission (along with our friends and family) in loving memory of Michael Douglas Garabedian, Jr. who was still born on February 2, 1998, and his brother Adam Michael Garabedian, who was still born on July 25, 2001. Both our sons were only weeks from their due date.

This program is offered at throughout the Baylor & Methodist Hospital systems in the DFW area. The program helps families who have suffered the loss of a child before, during or after birth. Based upon the estimates provided to us, the program has supported thousands of families. They have received support and care during their times of intense pain and sorrow.

You may learn more about the program at www.adamandmichaelangel.org.

It has always been our family's intention to support these programs without seeking funds from outside sources. Unfortunately, the circumstances of the home building industry has limited our ability to support the program as we had in the past.

Both the Baylor & Methodist Hospital Foundations are seeking to replenish their supplies of literature, memory rings and other care items. We are not able to meet their funding requests without help.

We wish to reach out to our friends for help. If you are so inclined and able to consider making a tax deductible gift to the Adam & Michael Angel Mission accounts, your support would be appreciated. You can make out your check to the respective foundation and PLEASE put Adam & Michael Angel Mission in the memo section of your check along with a note of explanation.

$5 or $500 any amount is helpful and appreciated. Baylor needs about $10,000 to get them through the next 24 months. Methodist could use about $3,000 for the next 24 months.

Thank you for your consideration and sharing this with others who may be inclined to help. With hundreds of families in our area going through the sorrow of losing a baby each year, your support is a god send. Please feel free to call or email any questions.

Thank you so very much for your consideration.

Sincerely

The Garabedian Family
